II. Summary of the 2024 Business Plan

(I) Management Policy

The Company is a comprehensive real estate team. It carries out a full range of research and analysis. It develops various building products based on land attributes, including residential buildings, villa residences, office buildings, and industrial real estate. Based on the idea of constructing classic, green future, and creating living space, we construct buildings that integrate technology facilities and would be standing for hundreds of years.

Full Wang’s common sense of “relationship like siblings and warmth like a family” is deeply rooted within our customers to pursue the Company’s future operational goals. At Full Wang, we adhere to the management philosophy of “responsibility, teamwork, quality and innovation” and implement it into each and every construction project, achieving the Company’s commitment that customers always come first. We fully adopt our corporate core values in a bid to build a win-win situation for our customers, shareholders and employees, and are committed to fulfilling our responsibilities to society.

[Do good deeds]	[Spread positive ideas]
we always strive to do our best;	we contribute what we can anywhere and anytime
[Goodwill]	[Achievement]
Cultivate community in the neighborhood;	Satisfy customers and exceed their expectations

(II) Expected sales volume and its basis

Our Company's construction division has purchased the land for the next 3 years as plann to be developed. Construction projects are plan according to the construction period in the short, medium and long term. These projects are expecte to be complete in 2024, 2025 and 2026, respectively, to contribute to each year's operating income and profitability. It is also actively developing a "large department store" located in the Wuri High-speed Railway Special Zone, attracting well-known domestic and foreign manufacturers to enter and cooperate, so as to create a long-term and stable development of the company's future operations.

(III) Important production and marketing policies

Production strategy: The development strategy for Company’s construction business division regarding construction projects is focuse on self-occupied projects, supplemented by home exchange and investment products. The company's products meet the market demand and our current development projects are the metropolitan areas in Hsinchu County, Yunlin County, Taichung City, and Kaohsiung City. To solve the issue of the lack of land for industrial use, we provide industries with production bases and develop land in industrial real estates centered on areas where the transportation is convenient and where industries are concentrated. These places include Taoyuan, Hsinchu, Changhua, Nantou, and Tainan.

Sales strategy: We adopt the pre-sale method and integrate different a variety of marketing channels to achieve the sales objective of “zero remaining empty houses” after the completion of the contraction project. At the same time, we also establish a robust customer service system and provide our customers with sustainable services to enhance customer satisfaction and recognition, establishing the Company's brand image as a sustainable service.

III. The Company’s future development strategy

- (I) Customer service: We understand the customer’s perspective and create maximum benefits for them. Our goal is to satisfy customers with our service.
- (II) Sustainable management: We regularly hold community events to give back and care for those in need and maintain customer relations.
- (III) Give back to society: Full Wang dedicates itself to public welfare activities, adhering to the philosophy of “taking from society and giving back to society.” We do our utmost to give back to society as well as helping the disadvantaged as a means to implement corporate social responsibility.
- (IV) High-quality Buildings: To continue providing quality architectural products, the Company considers the suitable function of living space and the convenience for occupants at the stage of the design planning.

IV. Effects by external competitive, regulatory and overall operating environments

(I) External competition

The development of Taiwan’s real estate market is centered on the Greater Taipei area. Given the reason, most construction sectors are concentrated in Taipei City and New Taipei City, competing with each other for land. Due to the increasing scarcity of land available for construction and the supply of land is limited, land in prime areas is hard to come back these days, resulting in a constant increase in land prices. The Company has sufficient land in Hsinchu, Yunlin, and Taichung for new construction projects. Since 2020, the Company has also been developing land in Kaohsiung, Yunlin, Changhua and Miaoli for residential construction projects.

In this competitive environment, in order to respond to the competition in the real estate market and consider the analysis of the future rail economic mobility demand, the Company has built through-the-sky, villa-type and residential buildings mainly on land around MRT stations, large-scale public buildings, newly rezoned areas and important transportation constructions. The company has the advantages of land cost and product planning, reasonable prices, can attract the favor of demanders, and actively invest in the development of commercial real estate, the "large department store" located in the Wuri high-speed rail special zone is in full swing to meet the external market competition.

(II) Regulatory environment

Although the current government policy is not favorable to the housing market, it still manages to generate profits. Through implementing ethical corporate management and social responsibility, not only are investors protected and management risk reduced, we have also enhanced our audit management to prevent internal fraud risks. Related information disclosure measures or material financial operations rules have been formulated, expecting to improve the Company’s information transparency and timeliness.

Full Wang has set up an investor service section to publish important information, which is released on the public information website designated by the competent authority and the Company's website. We also comply with the amendments or promulgation of laws and regulations formulated by the competent authorities to make our internal regulations more stringent. By taking such an approach, we aim to strengthen corporate governance and the protection of shareholders' rights.

(III) Overall operation

Looking back at the international economic situation in 2023, affected by factors such as high interest rates, high inflation and China's post-epidemic economic performance is not as expected, the global demand for end products is weak, resulting in a slowdown in manufacturing activities in various countries. In Taiwan, the domestic demand service industry showed an expansion trend after the epidemic, and the performance of industries such as retail, tourism and people transportation improved significantly compared with 2022, but the slowdown in global trade expansion not only affected Taiwan's export and export orders, but also affected corporate investment, causing Taiwan's economic growth rate to decline in the fourth quarter of 2022 and the first quarter of 2023, and only turned from negative to positive in the second quarter. In terms of the real estate industry, due to the frequent negative rumors of the general environment, the confidence of the real estate market has been disrupted, which not only causes investors to continue to leave the market, but also lengthens the evaluation time for self-occupants to purchase real estate. The company actively provides consumers with reasonably priced and high-quality products to choose from, and expects to drive the overall sales amount to grow steadily.

With the support of each and every of our shareholder, all board members, and chairman will lead our employees and do our utmost to continue to innovate and refine ourselves to create the highest value for the Company and return it to our shareholders. I express my deepest gratitude to all shareholders and hope you stay well and healthy.

Chairman: Lin Cheng-Hsiung

General manager: Lin Tsung-Yi

(II) Industry overview

1. The current situation and development of the real estate construction and development industry

In the national economic system, the real estate construction and development industry not only reflects the boom and bust of its own industry, but also directly affects other related industries, such as steel, cement, building materials, decoration, finance, brokerage and agency, and other related industries. Therefore, it is called "locomotive industry" and plays an important role in the development of national economic system. Therefore, the prosperity and sound development of the real estate construction and development industry is one of the most important factors affecting Taiwan's economic development. The development of the real estate construction and development industry still requires the support of the overall environment, including economic, social, market and political factors, such as national income, interest rates, population growth, household size, consumer demand, vacancy rate, cross-strait relations and security conditions, all of which will affect the volume of construction companies' projects and consumers' willingness to purchase homes. The overall economic situation has the most significant impact on the real estate construction and development industry. In addition, as the number of construction licenses issued is often regarded as a leading indicator of the development of the real estate boom in the next one or two years, its change can reflect the future development trend of the domestic construction industry and the supply situation of the housing market. Real estate transactions can also be used as an indicator of recent housing market transactions. The following is an analysis of the current status and development of the real estate construction and development industry with respect to the general economic changes, the number of domestic construction licenses issued, and the transfer of real estate sales and purchases.

- (A) Current state of the economy

Looking back at the international economic situation in 2023, affected by factors such as high interest rates, high inflation and China's post-epidemic economic performance is not as expected, the global demand for end products is weak, resulting in a slowdown in manufacturing activities in various countries. In Taiwan, the domestic demand service industry showed an expansion trend after the epidemic, and the performance of industries such as retail, tourism and people transportation improved significantly compared with 2022, but the slowdown in global trade expansion not only affected Taiwan's export and export orders, but also affected corporate investment, causing Taiwan's economic growth rate to decline in the fourth quarter of 2022 and the first quarter of 2023, and only turned from negative to positive in the second quarter. In terms of the real estate industry, due to the frequent negative rumors of the general environment, the confidence of the real estate market has been disrupted, which not only causes investors to continue to leave the market, but also lengthens the evaluation time for self-occupants to purchase real estate. The company actively provides consumers with reasonably priced and high-quality products to choose from, and expects to drive the overall sales amount to grow steadily.

Therefore, according to the latest forecast results of the Taiwan Economic Institute, the economic growth rate in 2024 will be 3.15%.

In terms of the issuance of residential construction licenses, the number of residential construction licenses issued in Taiwan has increased year by year since the financial tsunami in 2009, but began to decline in 2014, and after bottoming out in 2016, it showed a continuous increase trend from 2017 to 2022, and decreased slightly in 2023.

(C) Transfer of ownership of buildings

According to the data of the real estate information platform query network of the Ministry of the Interior, the purchase and sale of buildings has rebounded since the second half of 2009, and the transaction volume has shrunk due to the impact of the implementation of the luxury tax since June 2011, and the number of buildings sold and transferred in 2013 was 371,892, a new high in the past three years after the luxury tax, mainly due to the implementation of the transparent policy of real estate transactions, which has led to the reduction of the public's doubts about housing prices and the expiration of the two-year holding period of the luxury tax. At the end of the year, the present value of land announcements rose sharply, and there was a wave of transfers before the year, but after the peak period of housing delivery before the adjustment of land tax increase, the number of houses sold and sold in January 2014 showed a decline. In 2013, the number of buildings sold and transferred was better than that in 2012, mainly due to the weakening of the threat of international economic factors, the clarity and stability of the central bank's policy of maintaining low interest rates to promote the housing market, coupled with the completion of major transportation construction in various regions, and the central bank's board of supervisors did not have further regulatory measures for the housing market, and due to the continued low bank interest rates, resulting in abundant idle funds in the market, the United States, Japan and Europe collectively continued the unlimited loose monetary policy, and after a year of real price registration policy, the wait-and-see atmosphere has disappeared. Therefore, the domestic real estate market transactions in 2013 were better than expected. In 2014, the number of buildings sold and transferred decreased compared with 2013, mainly due to the government's plan to implement the real price tax on the integration of real estate and land, the central bank's continuous control of housing loans, and the real estate market was deeply affected by the nine-in-one election at the end of the year. In 2015, the number of buildings transferred for sale and purchase was affected by the government's implementation of the new tax system for the integration of real estate and land in 2016 and the central bank's continuous control of housing loans, coupled with the implementation of policies such as hoarding tax, luxury tax and real estate transaction registration, resulting in a significant contraction in the number of housing transfers in 2016, which has reached a new low in recent years, and has shown a continuous increase trend from 2017 to 2021, and has been decreasing year by year since 2022.

2. Relationship between upstream, midstream and downstream of the industry

3. The trends in the development of the real estate construction and development industry

With the increasing emphasis on the quality of living, the planning of the product, the utilization of space and the location of the chosen land have become important considerations for home buyers when choosing a house, and the quality of construction is the key to building a brand reputation. Therefore, the future development trend is the refinement of project design, humanization and practicality, green building and diversification of land development. The following are the trends in the development of the real estate construction and development industry.

(A) Diversification of land development methods

Due to the increasing sophistication of real estate transaction-related laws and regulations, and the increasing difficulty in acquiring land, it is different from the past when the housing construction industry often developed projects by buying out land or building with landowners. In the future, land development can be carried out in a variety of directions, such as superficies setting, land trust, commissioned construction, joint development, participation in urban renewal projects, securitization of real estate, public housing construction incentive programs, and acquiring the required reserve land in accordance with the government's agricultural land release policy.

(B) Diversification of products

Nowadays, due to the rise of rational consumer awareness in the real estate market, the planning of products by the construction industry can no longer be too conventional and has evolved towards diversified, user-friendly and practical products. Therefore, the key to successful project development depends on land development and product positioning. The real estate industry is becoming increasingly competitive, and in order to excel in this industry, we must effectively differentiate our products from competitors in the market and position them appropriately. In recent years, such as low-total-price villas, leisure housing, small luxury houses, and residential and commercial complexes near MRT stations are leading the way in house sales. As the age structure of the population changes, housing for silver-haired people has emerged. Internet families, Internet system communities and integrated communities are gradually adopted by the building industry and will play an important role in product positioning and differentiated design in the future.

(C) Community Planning Toward Complete Living Functions

At present, the real estate market is still dominated by owner-occupied residential products, and the vacancy rate of investment office buildings is still high and cannot be changed in the short term, even with the reduction of prices by builders or investors for sale or lease. In the future, new communities should feature complete living functions, such as nurseries, sports grounds, libraries, parks, supermarkets, leisure and entertainment facilities, etc., in order to fully meet the needs of modern people for a basic living environment.

(D) Growing awareness of environmental protection

In order to enhance the technology and humanization of green buildings, the Executive Yuan has approved the Smart Green Building Promotion Program. At present, the policy of green building design has set nine evaluation indicators including forestation, base water conservation, water resources, daily energy saving, carbon dioxide reduction, sewage treatment, waste improvement, biodiversity and indoor environmental indicators. Since 2012, all new public buildings with project costs over $50 million have been mandatorily introduced into the smart green building design and construction, and included in the public works budget review and control. Under the promotion of government agencies, the concept of green building has become the future trend.

(E) Implementation of architectural branding system

As the standard of living has improved, home buyers have gradually raised their expectations for the quality of the living environment in terms of exterior design, interior layout, building materials and equipment, and public amenities. In recent years, natural disasters have prompted consumers to pay more attention to the safety of their homes. Therefore, in order to meet the needs of consumers, the construction industry has placed special emphasis on safety, comfort, convenience and after-sales service in product planning to build brand awareness in the minds of consumers. The Ministry of the Interior's Department of Construction is actively promoting the "Awarding Method for Excellent Construction Investment Industry" in order to provide home buyers with a choice of excellent construction companies as a reference for purchasing homes; therefore, in the future, construction companies will pay more and more attention to the self-requirement of construction quality and brand building, and the quality characteristics and reputation image are the basis for sustainable operation of the company.

(F) Prevention of Transaction Disputes

In order to avoid disputes during the transaction, the Ministry of the Interior has promulgated a model standard contract for the sale of real estate, which specifies the rights and obligations of pre-sale housing or land development, which must comply with the Consumer Protection Act and the Fair Trade Act. In addition, strengthen construction management, ensure the quality of construction, control the progress of completion and the use of delivery strategies are also necessary to prevent transaction disputes.

(G) Building labeling system to enhance the quality of housing

Taiwanese people's demand for housing quality is increasing day by day, and product planning has become an important consideration for home buyers when choosing a home. Customer satisfaction has also become an important indicator of the competitiveness, and the trend of future housing product development is toward refined humanistic design, functional and practical diversification, and environmentally friendly construction. In recent years, the Architectural Research Institute of the Ministry of the Interior has introduced various labeling systems, such as the Fire Prevention Label for Public Places, the Green Building Label, the Green Building Materials Label, the Smart Building Label, and the Seismic Building Label. To encourage the improvement of building quality.

In order to improve the quality of housing, the Ministry of Interior's Department of Construction invested in 2014 to promote the "Housing Performance Assessment System," which targets new and existing housing with eight safety and environmental performance assessments. If the assessment result reaches a certain level, awards and certifications will be given, and up to 45% of the assessment cost will be subsidized. The Housing Performance Assessment System is based on objective evaluation by a professional third party, and the performance level is clearly indicated so that consumers can compare different residences and choose the right one according to their personal needs. In addition, the impartial and objective housing quality label will enable those with excellent performance to receive higher evaluations, which will be conducive to the trend of eliminating the worst in housing and promoting the transformation of the real estate construction industry to achieve the goals of protecting consumer rights, improving the real estate market and enhancing the quality of housing.

4. Competition of products

Since the real estate market is widely distributed, the location and characteristics of the products are different, and there is no complete substitution between them, the competition is not obvious, and the influence of individual companies on the overall market is limited. Most of the companies do not have direct competition with each other. In addition, since the main project areas of each company are different, it is difficult to define the same market, and there is no credible unit or universal standard to be used as the basis of market share comparison. Unlike other industries where there is company-to-company competition, the competition between cases and cases in each project area is more obvious. In addition, the construction industry is characterized by a large number of companies, and changes in the market share of major competitors are less relevant to the future operations of the company than the sales of its projects.

5. Technology and R&D Overview

(1) Technology level and research development

The Company's construction and development business is mainly engaged in the construction and sale of houses. According to the construction regulations, the construction developers are not allowed to engage in construction works, therefore, the Company must contract out the relevant construction works to qualified contractors and does not engage in construction works itself, therefore, there is no R&D department in the Company's organizational structure. The Company's 100%-owned subsidiary, Baoxin Construction Co., Ltd., has been awarded some of the Company's construction projects, and Baoxin Construction's own construction methods are being developed and innovated to improve the quality of construction.

6. Long- and short-term business development plans

(1) Short-term business development plan

- A. Considering the size of the Company and its capital and financial situation, we are actively planning buildings in business districts and townhouse residential stores, and adopt a multi-angle management strategy to diversify our business risks.
- B. The development strategy for Company's construction projects is focused on owner-occupied projects, supplemented by home replacement and investment products. - C. Commercial real estate development, the Company bid to obtain the right of use assets, officially entered the commercial real estate, and will build the first complex mall in line with ESG goals in the Wuri high-speed railway special zone.

(2) Long-term business development plan

- B. Continue to develop industrial real estate in order to facilitate the demand

2. Market share

Since the real estate market is widely distributed, the location and characteristics of the products are different, and there is no complete substitution between them, the competition is not obvious, and the influence of individual companies on the overall market is limited. Most of the companies do not have direct competition with each other. In addition, since the main project areas of each company are different, it is difficult to define the same market, and there is no credible unit or universal standard to be used as the basis of market share comparison. At present, our construction projects are mainly in Hsinchu, Miaoli, Taichung, Yunlin and Kaohsiung, Therefore, the main competitors should be the construction companies in the regions where the construction project is located.

3. The future supply and demand condition and growth of the market

A. Supply and demand condition of the market

According to the research data of the Taiwan Real Estate Research Center of Cathay Pacific Construction and Chengchi University on the island's real estate (see the table below) the Cathay Pacific National Real Estate Index in the fourth quarter of 2023 shows that the real estate market in Taiwan is stable in price and volume compared with the same quarter last year. Overall, the demand for owner-occupancy is still the main force supporting the housing market in 2024, continuing the trend in 2023, and the housing market is expected to move towards price and volume consolidation in 2024.

B. Future market growth

The main demand in the real estate market can be divided into two main categories: owner-occupied and investment customers. Owner-occupied buyers have always had a stable demand for real estate, and as national income continues to rise and the population naturally increases, people will continue to pursue the expansion of residential space and facilities, and will place more emphasis on the improvement of living quality. In addition, the demand for home replacement and the obsolescence of old houses will continue to arise, so the owner-occupied customers will remain the main demand in the future. Investment demand is more likely to be affected by fluctuations in the housing boom, political stability, policy leniency, psychological expectations, and inflation.

In recent years with the increasing economic pressure and changes in the concept of childbearing there is a general situation of late marriage and low birthrate in Taiwan and the trend of small families is becoming more and more obvious which makes the number of families continue to increase driving the basic demand for the overall house. The growth of the number of households is the basic source of customers in the housing transaction market although the growth of Taiwan's population has slowed down in recent years but the number of households still maintains a steady growth in terms of China's population and the number of households at the end of 112 the total number of households in the country is 9 241 (thousand households) with 23 420 (thousand people) the average population of each household is 2.53 people so in recent years the two-bedroom and suite products in the small number of small rings in the metropolitan area have gradually jumped to the mainstream of the market to buy houses. With the continuous growth of the economy the effect of urbanization and agglomeration has become increasingly fermented and the population growth rate has slowed down in recent years but the number of households has maintained a growth trend despite the continuous decrease in the number of households per household indicating that the real estate market will still have its basic needs due to the continuous growth of the number of households in the future.

Therefore, even though the project volume and market share are not large, the overall gross margin of projects is still maintained at a certain level. In addition, the Company is actively engaged in acquiring short-, medium- and long-term land resources and planning the construction of residential properties for sale, and will continue to increase its market share as construction projects continue to be launched.

5. Favorable and unfavorable factors of development prospect and countermeasures

A. Favorable factors

(A) Expansion of Domestic Demand Program Driving Regional Prosperity

The government is actively promoting various public works projects to expand domestic investment, including the i-Taiwan 12 infrastructure projects of NT$3.99 trillion, covering various industries and fields such as transportation, industrial development, urban and rural development, and environmental conservation, etc., from the overall social construction development, so each construction project will boost the local real estate market, which will help the overall construction industry to improve. In recent years, there are still some major traffic constructions completed and opened to traffic, and there are even major traffic construction topics, which will become one of the favorable factors for the neighboring business district and residential market, so it is expected to have a supportive effect on the regional housing market.

- (B) Government incentives to promote urban renewal
According to the statistics of the Directorate-General of Budget, Accounting and Statistics, the homeownership rate in Taiwan reached 84.83% in 2017, but more than 70% of them are middle-aged houses over 20 years old, which are no longer in line with the requirements of modern homeowners in terms of usable space, building materials and equipment, and building structural safety. Therefore, the government encourages urban renewal projects through relevant measures, including continuous promotion of the counselling mechanism, amendment of the urban renewal act, increasing incentives and assisting households to promote their own renewal projects, etc., in order to accelerate the promotion of urban renewal projects by construction companies, which has become an important growth factor for the real estate market.

B. Unfavorable factors and countermeasures

- (A) The difficulty in acquiring land in prime locations and the increase in construction costs are detrimental to real estate development
Land is the most basic raw material for construction, but most of the land in Taiwan is hilly or high mountains, so land available for the development of construction is originally limited; coupled with the development of the industry for many years, the current development value of land is more limited; and landowners also have the reluctance to sell, resulting in a difficulty to find land, and with the changes in the price level and the rise in wages, but also the rising construction-related costs, resulting in the continuous rise in construction costs, all have a negative impact on real estate development.

Countermeasures: Choose the location of the project carefully and focus on building quality

As the cost of raw materials and land continues to rise, we are strengthening our land development, carefully selecting project locations and product planning to increase the added value of our products, improving construction quality, strengthening our procurement capabilities through multiple inquiries, bargaining and price comparisons, carefully selecting building materials, and strictly regulating the construction process of our construction contractors in order to maintain a good brand image of the Company. We also strictly control the internal operation process to minimize the impact of cost increase.

- (B) Overheated speculation in housing prices and the National Taxation Bureau's tightening of tax investigation actions will affect consumers' willingness to invest in housing
The government has launched a number of policies to combat housing in order to effectively solve the phenomenon of public discontent caused by high housing prices. The National Taxation Bureau is expected to increase its tax investigation activities in the future, which is relatively unfavorable to the housing market's buying sentiment.

Countermeasures: Diversify products and launch products that meet consumer needs

The government's housing policies, such as the joint tax on building and land sales and the 5 legislations for Housing Justice, mainly target luxury housing projects with high unit prices and high total prices in prime urban areas. Most of the buyers of luxury housing projects are high-equity clients. In the future, Full Wang will respond to the changes in the industry and market demand structure, launch products with different functions and reasonable price for consumers with different needs, and adjust various types of products and volume in time to enter other types of real estate market. In addition, each project will be correctly positioned according to the location and scale of the product, and the market segmentation will be made according to the characteristics of the regional customers, so as to expand the scale and scope of the Company's operation with a variety of products.

(II) Important applications and production processes of major products:

The Company's main products are the construction of residential buildings, villas, stores, shopping malls, factory offices, parking spaces, and integrated land development, etc. The Company mainly commissions contractors to carry out the construction.

(III) The supply of major raw materials:

1. Land

The Company's current products are mainly developed in Taoyuan City, Hsinchu City and Taichung City, etc. The Company's development unit carefully evaluates and selects areas with excellent locations and elegant environments, as well as land release tenders from National Property Administration, banks, etc., or prime locations for court auctions, and with a focus on acquiring land for immediate development and construction. In addition, we will cooperate with landowners in the form of joint construction according to actual needs, so that there will be no shortage in supply.

2. Construction works

In terms of construction, the Company's current construction projects are mainly carried out by Baoxin Construction, a subsidiary of the Company, and the construction progress is always on schedule. In addition, from the time of contracting to the time of acceptance of the project, we will effectively grasp and understand the progress and quality of the project, so that the quality of our completed projects can be maintained at a high level. The market price movements of other auxiliary raw materials such as cement, steel, sand and gravel required for the construction projects are also monitored by the specialized department of Baoxin Construction periodically.

	Net purchases	2,259,200	100.00		Net purchases	2,148,621	100.00

Reasons for the increase or decrease

The Company's main purchase item is land. Since the source of land acquisition is mainly from individuals, companies or participation in bidding by government agencies, and there is no specific supplier, so the change in suppliers in the last two years is still reasonable.

III. Information on major customers in the most recent 2 years

Unit: NTD thousand

Item	2022				2023

	Net sales	578,022	100.00		Net sales	2,600,430	100.00

Reasons for the increase or decrease

The Company's sales revenues in the last two years were mainly from the sale of residential properties, land disposal and industrial land. Due to the special nature of real estate, most of the sales are made to unspecified individuals or companies, and the transaction amounts are large and not highly repetitive. Therefore, the changes in sales customers in the last two years are reasonable.

	Financial leverage	1.77	1.20	1.14	NA	1.08

Please explain the reasons for the changes in the financial ratios for the last two years (if the change is less than 20%, the analysis is exempted)

- Change in the ratio of long-term funds to property, plant and equipment: Mainly due to the decrease in non-current liabilities in 2023.
- Change in quick ratio: Mainly due to the increase in cash and equivalent, accounts receivable, etc. in 2023.
- Change in interest coverage ratio: Mainly due to net profit in 2023.
- Changes in receivables turnover ratio (times) and average cash collection days: mainly due to the increase in operating income in 2023.
- Changes in inventory turnover ratio, accounts payable turnover ratio (times) and average number of days sold: mainly due to the increase in operating costs in 2023.
- Changes in the turnover ratio of real estate, plant and equipment (times) and total assets turnover ratio (times): Mainly due to the increase in operating income in 2023.
- Changes in return on assets, return on equity, pre-tax net profit to paid-in capital, net earnings ratio and earnings per share were mainly attributable to net profit in FY2023.
- Change in cash flow ratio: Mainly due to the increase in operating income in FY2023.
- Change in cash reinvestment ratio: Mainly due to the change in net cash outflow from average operating activities over the past five years.
- Change in operating leverage: Mainly due to the presentation of operating profit in 2023.

The financial analysis formula as follows:

1. Capital structure

(1) Debt to asset ratio = total liabilities/total assets

(2) Long-term capital to property, plant, and equipment ratio = (total equity + non-current liabilities)/net property, plant, and equipment

2. Solvency

(1) Current ratio = current assets/current liabilities

- (2) Quick ratio = (current assets - inventory - prepaid expenses)/current liabilities
- (3) Interests coverage multiplier = net profits before tax and interest expense/interest expense for the period
3. Operating performance
- (1) Receivable (including accounts receivable and notes receivable from business operations) turnover rate = net sales / balance of average accounts receivable for various periods (including accounts receivable and notes receivable from business operations).
- (2) Average collection days = 365/accounts receivable turnover rate
- (3) Inventory turnover rate = costs of goods sold/average inventory
- (4) Payable (including accounts payable and notes payable from business operations) turnover rate = costs of goods sold / balance of average accounts payable for various periods (including accounts payable and notes payable from business operations).
- (5) Average sales days = 365/inventory turnover rate
- (6) Property, plant, and equipment turnover rate = net sales/average property, plant, and equipment
- (7) Total assets turnover rate = net sales/average total assets
4. Profitability
- (1) Return on assets = [net profits after tax + interest expense x (1 - tax rate)]/average total assets
- (2) Return on equity = net profits after tax/average total equity
- (3) Net profit margin = net profits after tax/net sales
- (4) Earnings per share = (net profits attributable to shareholders of the parent - preferred stock dividend)/weighted average number of shares outstanding (Note 4)
5. Cash flow
- (1) Cash flow ratio = net cash flow from operating activities/current liabilities.
- (2) Cash flow adequacy ratio = sum of net cash flow from operating activities for the most recent 5 years / sum of capital expenditures, inventory additions, and cash dividend for the most recent 5 years
- (3) Cash flow reinvestment ratio = (net cash flow from operating activities - cash dividend) / (gross property, plant, and equipment + long-term investment + other non-current assets + working capitals). (Note 5)
6. Leverage
- (1) Operating leverage = (net operating revenues - variable operating costs and expenses) / operating profits (Note 6).
- (2) Financial leverage = operating profits / (operating profits - interest expense).

Note 1: The Company's financial statements for the years 2018 to 2023 have been audited and attested by the CPAs.

Note 2: If the net cash flow from operating activities is an outflow, it is not counted.

Note 3: As there are less than 5 years of financial data under IFRS, it is not calculated.

Note 4: Special attention should be paid to the following when measuring earnings per share with the above calculation formula:

1. Based on the weighted-average number of common shares rather than the number of shares outstanding at the end of the year.
2. Where there is cash capital increase or treasury stock transactions, the weighted average number of shares should be used considering the period of circulation.
3. Where there is a capital increase by retained earnings or capital surplus, when calculating the annual or semi-annual earnings per share for previous years, retrospective adjustments should be made in proportion to the capital increase, regardless of the issuance period of such capital increase.
4. If the preferred shares are non-convertible and cumulative, their dividends for the current year (whether paid or not) should be deducted from the net profits after tax, or added to the net losses after tax. If the preferred shares are non-cumulative, their dividends should be deducted from net profits after tax if there are net profits after tax; if there are net losses, no adjustment is required.

Note 5: Special attention should be paid to the following in performing cash flow analysis.

1. Net cash flow from operating activities represents the net cash inflow from operating activities in the cash flow statement.
2. Capital expenditures represent the annual cash outflows from capital investments.
3. Increase in inventory is included only if the ending balance is greater than the beginning balance, or zero if inventory decreases at the end of the year.
4. Cash dividends include cash dividends on common stock and preferred stock.
5. Gross property, plant and equipment represents the total amount of property, plant and equipment before accumulated depreciation.

Note 6: The issuer should distinguish between fixed and variable operating costs and operating expenses according to their nature, and where estimates or subjective judgments are involved, pay attention to the reasonableness and maintain consistency.

Note 7: If the Company's stock has no face value or the face value per share is not NT$10, the ratios related to paid-in capital in the preceding paragraph should be replaced with the ratio of equity attributable to shareholders of the parent in the balance sheet.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TRANSLATED FROM CHINESE

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Full Wang International Development Co., Ltd.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Full Wang International Development Co., Ltd. and subsidiaries (the "Group") as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statements Auditing and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's 2023 consolidated financial statements are stated as follows:

Cut-off of building and land sales revenue

Description

Please refer to Note 4(27) for accounting policies on sales revenue, and Note 6(18) for details. For the year ended December 31, 2023, building and land sales revenue amounted to NT$2,580,480 thousand, representing 99% of consolidated operating revenue.

In the construction industry, building and land sales revenue are recognised when control of the building and land has been transferred. Since building and land sales in the construction industry involve numerous customers, the control transfer related documents shall be reviewed before recognising revenue which usually involves manual work, and thus may result in inappropriate timing of revenue recognition around the balance sheet date. Thus, we identified the cut-off of building and land sales revenue as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding, assessment and verification on operating procedures and internal controls in relation to building and land sales revenue, including the following items:
  - (1) Interviewed employees involved in operating procedures of building and land sales revenue in each segment and obtained revenue recognition procedures of building and land sales in order to confirm that they are in line with the operating regulations.
  - (2) Examined the internal control of building and land sale revenue, checked whether the home inspection information had been reviewed by the competent supervisors and verified whether the date and the information recorded in supporting documents (including land registrations, house ownership certificates, home inspection information and house handover information) were consistent with the date and the information recorded in building and land sales contracts in order to ensure transactions were recorded in the proper period.
2. Performed cut-off test on building and land transactions around the end of the reporting period, including verifying land registration, transfer date in the house ownership certificate, customers' home inspection checklists and customers' signed receipts for turning over of property to confirm that the building and land sales revenue recognition timing was appropriate.

Assessment of allowance for inventory valuation losses

Description

Please refer to Note 4(13) for accounting policy on inventory valuation, Note 5(2) for accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to inventory valuation. As at December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories and allowance for inventory valuation losses amounted to NT$7,148,543 thousand and NT$0 thousand, respectively.

The Group's inventories pertain to buildings and land held for sale and construction in progress, and inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Since the Group operates in the construction industry which involves a high degree of capital input and has a long capital recovery period, the market price of real estate has higher fluctuations due to the impact of the government's housing policy and the state of the economy in recent years and because the inventory valuation involves management's subjective judgment, thus, we identified assessment of allowance for inventory valuation losses as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding of and assessed the nature of the Group's business and industry and discussed with management in order to assess the reasonableness of the method and the procedure that the Group used to determine net realizable value.
2. Obtained the net realizable value report of inventory at the end of the reporting period, sampled and tested the adequacy of basis used in estimation of net realizable assets, including obtaining recent transaction prices of each project, recent transaction information of similar assets of neighboring area or appraisal report issued by external experts and the adequacy of the estimated costs necessary to complete the sale, and confirmed the net realizable value of ending inventories in order to assess the reasonableness of allowance for inventory valuation losses.

Other matter - parent company only financial reports

We have audited and expressed an unqualified opinion and an unqualified opinion with other matter paragraph, respectively, on the parent company only financial statements of Full Wang International Development Co., Ltd. as at and for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Foreign currency transactions and balances

- A. Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.
- B. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising upon re-translation at the balance sheet date are recognised in profit or loss.
- C. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- D. All other foreign exchange gains and losses based on the nature of those transactions are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within 'other gains and losses'.

(5) Classification of current and non-current items

A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets:

- (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realised, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
- (b) Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
- (c) Assets that are expected to be realised within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
- (d) Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to settle liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.

Except for the assets related to construction and long-term construction contracts, assets that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current assets.

B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities:

- (a) Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;

- (b) Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;
- (c) Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
- (d) Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

Except for the liabilities related to construction and long-term construction contracts, liabilities that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current liabilities.

- C. As the operating cycle for constructions and sales of buildings usually exceeds one year, the Company uses the operating cycle as its criteria for classifying current and non-current assets and liabilities related to construction contracts. For other assets and liabilities, the criterion is one year.

(6) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

- A. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets that are not measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value and recognises the transaction costs in profit or loss. The Group subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value, and recognises the gain or loss in profit or loss.
- D. The Group recognises the dividend income when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(7) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

- A. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income comprise equity securities which are not held for trading, and for which the Group has made an irrevocable election at initial recognition to recognise changes in fair value in other comprehensive income and debt instruments which meet all of the following criteria:
  - (a) The objective of the Group's business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
  - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. The Group subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value:
The changes in fair value of equity investments that were recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to retained earnings and are not reclassified to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(8) Financial assets at amortised cost

- A. Financial assets at amortised cost are those that meet all of the following criteria:
  - (a) The objective of the Group's business model is achieved by collecting contractual cash flows.
  - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at amortised cost are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Group measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest method. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.
- D. The Group's time deposits which do not fall under cash equivalents are those with a short maturity period and are measured at initial investment amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(9) Accounts and notes receivable

- A. Accounts and notes receivable entitle the Group a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.
- B. The short-term accounts and notes receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(10) Impairment of financial assets

For financial assets at amortised cost, at each reporting date, the Group recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable that do not contain a significant financing component, the Group recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(11) Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.

The Group derecognises a financial asset when one of the following conditions is met:

- A. The contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.
- B. The contractual rights to receive cash flows of the financial asset have been transferred and the Group has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset.
- C. The contractual rights to receive cash flows of the financial asset have been transferred; however, the Group has not retained control of the financial asset.

(12) Leasing arrangements (lessor) — operating leases

Lease income from an operating lease (net of any incentives given to the lessee) is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(13) Inventories

- A. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined using the weighted-average method. The item by item approach is used in applying the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.
- B. Inventories related to the construction industry include land held for sale, buildings held for sale, construction in progress and construction materials, etc., which are recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised. The cost is accumulated based on constructions and is determined based on floor space of a building. Also, inventories are assessed based on the lower of cost and net realizable value at the balance sheet date. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The Group adopted specific identification method to attribute costs to each construction project when comparing costs and net realizable value of inventories. The amount that the Group wrote down from cost to net realizable value was accounted for as cost of goods sold.

(14) Property, plant and equipment

- A. Property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised.
- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Land is not depreciated. Other property, plant and equipment apply cost model and are depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives. Each part of an item of property, plant, and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Leasehold improvements	1~3 year(s)
Other equipment	2~5 year(s)

(15) Leasing arrangements (lessee) – right-of-use assets/ lease liabilities

- A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Group. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
- B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate. Lease payments are comprised of the following:
- (a) Fixed payments, less any lease incentives receivable; and
  - (b) Variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate.

The Group subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.

- C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use asset is stated at cost comprising the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability.

The right-of-use asset is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term. When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

- D. For lease modifications that decrease the scope of the lease, the lessee shall decrease the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset and remeasure the lease liability to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognise the difference in profit or loss.

(16) Intangible assets

Computer software is stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 3 years.

(17) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. When the circumstances or reasons for recognising impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist or diminish, the impairment loss is reversed. The increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated or amortised historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognised.

(18) Borrowings

Borrowings comprise long-term and short-term bank borrowings and other short-term loans. Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(19) Notes and accounts payable

A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services and notes payable are those resulting from operating and non-operating activities.

B. The short-term notes and accounts payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(20) Bonds payable

Ordinary corporate bonds issued by the Group are initially recognised at fair value less transaction costs. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is presented as an addition to or deduction from bonds payable, which is amortised to profit or loss over the period of bond circulation using the effective interest method as an adjustment to ‘finance costs’.

(21) Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is either discharged or cancelled or expires.

(22) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expense in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

For defined contribution plans, the contributions are recognised as pension expense when they are due on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments.

C. Employees’ compensation and directors’ and supervisors’ remuneration

Employees’ compensation and directors’ and supervisors’ remuneration are recognised as expense and liability, provided that such recognition is required under legal or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as changes in estimates. If employee compensation is paid by shares, the Group calculates the number of shares based on the closing price at the previous day of the board meeting resolution.

(23) Employee share-based payment

For the equity-settled share-based payment arrangements, the employee services received are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted at the grant date, and are recognised as compensation cost over the vesting period, with a corresponding adjustment to equity. The fair value of the equity instruments granted shall reflect the impact of market vesting conditions and non-vesting conditions. Compensation cost is subject to adjustment based on the service conditions that are expected to be satisfied and the estimates of the number of equity instruments that are expected to vest under the non-market vesting conditions at each balance sheet date. Ultimately, the amount of compensation cost recognised is based on the number of equity instruments that eventually vest.

(24) Income tax

- A. The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or items recognised directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity.
- B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company and its subsidiaries operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities. An additional tax is levied on the unappropriated retained earnings and is recorded as income tax expense in the year the stockholders resolve to retain the earnings.
- C. Deferred tax is recognised, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet. However, the deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Group and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.
- D. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. At each balance sheet date, unrecognised and recognised deferred tax assets are reassessed.

(25) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(26) Dividends

Cash dividends distributed to shareholders are recorded as liability in the financial statements when the Company's Board of Directors resolved to distribute dividends. Stock dividends distributed to shareholders are recorded as stock dividend to be distributed in the financial statements when the shareholders resolved to distribute dividends and transferred to ordinary shares at the effective date of new shares.

(27) Revenue recognition

A. Sales of real estate

- (a) The Group is primarily engaged in building real estate through entrusting a construction company and sales of real estate. The revenue from sales of real estate is recognised when the control over the real estate is transferred to customers. The properties have generally no alternative use for the Group due to contractual restrictions. However, an enforceable right to payment does not arise until legal title has passed to the customer. Therefore, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the legal title has passed to the customer.
- (b) Certain sales contract of pre-sale houses contains provision for advance sales receipts, wherein the period between advance collection and the transfer of control of goods is longer than one year. The Group assessed that there is no significant financial component in the individual contract, therefore the Company does not adjust the transaction price to reflect the time value of money.

B. Service revenue

Service revenue is derived from providing services based on commissioned sales contracts. Revenue is recognised when the provision of services is completed, and customer pays contract consideration when the provision of service is completed.

C. Sales of goods

- (a) The Group sells cosmetics and skincare related products. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the Group sells a product to the customer.
- (b) Payment of the transaction price is due immediately when the customer purchases.
- (c) A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

D. Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

The Group recognises an asset (shown as 'other current assets') the incremental costs (mainly comprised of sales commissions) of obtaining a contract with a customer if the Group expects to recover those costs. The recognised asset is amortised on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfers to the customer of the goods or services to which the asset relates. The Group recognises an impairment loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive less the costs that have not been recognised as expenses.

(28) Operating segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision-maker. The Group's chief operating decision-maker is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments.

5. Critical Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Key Sources of Assumption Uncertainty

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Group's accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. There are no critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumption uncertainty.

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Company's accounting policies

None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

Evaluation of inventories

As inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value, the Group must determine the net realizable value of inventories on balance sheet date using judgements and estimates. Inventory valuation is primarily estimated based on the market price which may have significant changes due to the government's housing policy and the recent state of the economy on real estate.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories was $7,148,543 thousand.

B. Financial risk management policies

- (a) The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.
- (b) Risk management is carried out by the Group's treasury department through close co-operation with the Group's operating units to identify, evaluate and hedge financial risks, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments, and investment of excess liquidity.

C. Significant financial risks and degrees of financial risks

(a) Market risk

Exchange rate risk

The Group's businesses involve functional currency operations (the Company's and certain subsidiaries' functional currency: NTD), the value affected by exchange rate fluctuations is remote and will not generate exchange rate risk accordingly.

Price risk

- i. The Group's equity securities, which are exposed to price risk, are the held financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. To manage its price risk arising from investments in equity securities, the Group diversifies its portfolio. Diversification of the portfolio is done in accordance with the limits set by the Group.
- ii. The Group's major investment is equity securities. The prices of equity securities would change due to the change of the future value of investee companies. If the prices of these equity securities had decreased/increased by 5% with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 would have decreased/increased by $1,276 thousand and $25,841 thousand, respectively, as a result of gains on equity securities classified as at fair value through profit or loss. Other components of equity would have increased/decreased by $200 and $0, respectively, as a result of other comprehensive income classified as equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

- i. The Group's main interest rate risk arises from borrowings with variable rates, which expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk. During December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's borrowings at variable rate were mainly denominated in New Taiwan dollars.
- ii. If the borrowing interest rate of New Taiwan dollars had decreased/increased by 0.1% with all other variables held constant, profit, net of tax for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 would have decreased/increased by $3,863 thousand and $3,807 thousand, respectively. The main factor is that changes in interest expense result in floating-rate borrowings.

(b) Credit risk

- i. Credit risk refers to the risk of financial loss to the Group arising from default by the clients or counterparties of financial instruments on the contract obligations. The main factor is that counterparties could not repay in full the accounts receivable based on the agreed terms, and the contract cash flows of financial assets stated at amortised cost.
- ii. The Group manages their credit risk taking into consideration the entire Group's concern. For banks and financial institutions, checking their credit rating on deposits, only independently rated parties with a minimum rating of good credit quality are accepted. According to the Group's credit policy, each local entity in the Group is responsible for managing and analysing the credit risk for each of their new clients before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Internal risk control assesses the credit quality of the customers, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal or external ratings in accordance with limits set by the Board of Directors. The utilisation of credit limits is regularly monitored.
- iii. The Group adopts following assumptions under IFRS 9 to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition:
If the contract payments were past due over 30 days based on the terms, there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition.
- iv. The Group adopts the assumptions under IFRS 9, the default occurs when the contract payments are past due over 90 days.
- v. The Group primarily operates buildings and land business, such as sales of houses and plants. Revenue is recognised when transfer of ownership and house handover are completed, and the possibility of uncollectible accounts receivable is remote. The Company individually manages and regularly follows-up accounts receivable derived from special transactions. In addition, the Group classifies customers' accounts receivable in accordance with customer types and credit rating of customer. The Group applies the modified approach using a provision matrix to estimate the expected credit loss.

vi. The following indicators are used to determine whether the credit impairment of debt instruments has occurred:

- (i). It becomes probable that the issuer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation due to their financial difficulties;
- (ii). The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties;
- (iii). Default or delinquency in interest or principal repayments;
- (iv). Adverse changes in national or regional economic conditions that are expected to cause a default.

vii. The Group wrote-off the financial assets, which cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered, after initiating recourse procedures. However, the Group will continue executing the recourse procedures to secure their rights. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Group's written-off financial assets that are still under recourse procedures amounted to $0 thousand and $0 thousand, respectively.

viii. The Group used the historical and timely information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the provision matrix is as follows:

	Not past due	Up to 90 days past due	Over 90 days past due	Total
December 31, 2023
Expected loss rate	0.15%	-	-
Total book value	$ 468,190	$ -	$ -	$ 468,190
Loss allowance	($ 699)	$ -	$ -	($ 699)
December 31, 2022
Expected loss rate	1.57%	-	-
Total book value	$ 44,557	$ -	$ -	$ 44,557
Loss allowance	($ 699)	$ -	$ -	($ 699)

ix. Movements in relation to the Company applying the modified approach to provide loss allowance for accounts receivable are as follows:

	2023	2022
	Accounts receivable	Accounts receivable
At January 1 (i.e. at December 31)	$ 699	$ 699

x. The Group estimated that the loss rate of financial assets at amortised costs, notes receivables, accounts receivable-related parties, other accounts receivable (including related parties) and guarantee deposits paid is remote, therefore, loss allowance is immaterial as of December 31, 2023 and 2022.

(c) Liquidity risk

- i. Cash flow forecasting is aggregated by Group treasury. Group treasury monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs while maintaining sufficient headroom on its undrawn committed borrowing facilities at all times.
- ii. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Group has undrawn borrowing facilities amounting to $4,337,094 thousand and $2,722,404 thousand, respectively. The above bank borrowing facilities were drawn down based on the progress of the project.
- iii. The table below analyses the Group's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

(3) Fair value information

A. The different levels that the inputs to valuation techniques are used to measure fair value of financial and non-financial instruments have been defined as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date. A market is regarded as active where a market in which transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. The fair value of the Group's investment in listed stocks is included in Level 1.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

B. Financial instruments not measured at fair value

The carrying amounts of the Group's financial instruments not measured at fair value (including cash, financial assets at amortised cost, notes receivable, accounts receivable, other receivables, guarantee deposits paid, short-term borrowings, short-term notes and bills payable, notes payable, accounts payable, other payables, other payables to related parties, bonds payable, guarantee deposits received and lease liabilities) are approximate to their fair values.

C. The related information of financial instruments measured at fair value by level on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the assets and liabilities at December 31, 2023 and 2022 are as follows:

(a) The related information of natures of the assets is as follows:

December 31, 2023	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Assets
Recurring fair value measurements
Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss
Equity securities	$ 25,523	$ -	$ 20	$ 25,543
Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income
Equity securities	$ -	$ 4,000	$ -	$ 4,000
December 31, 2022	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss
Equity securities	$ 521,251	$ -	$ 20	$ 521,271

(b) The methods and assumptions the Group used to measure fair value are as follows:

A. The instruments the Group used market quoted prices as their fair values (that is, Level 1) are listed below by characteristics:

Market quoted price	Listed shares Closing price
---------------------	---------------------------------------

D. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, there was no transfer between Level 1 and Level 2.

In our opinion, the accompanying parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the parent company only financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2023 and 2022, and its parent company only financial performance and its parent company only cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for opinion

Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Company's 2023 parent company only financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Company's 2023 parent company only financial statements are stated as follows:

Cut-off of building and land sales revenue

Description

Please refer to Note 4(24) for accounting policies on sales revenue, and Note 6(19) for details. For the year ended December 31, 2023, building and land sales revenue amounted to NT$2,037,745 thousand, representing 99.57% of operating revenue.

In the construction industry, building and land sales revenue are recognised when control of the building and land has been transferred. Since building and land sales in the construction industry involve numerous customers, the control transfer related documents shall be reviewed before recognising revenue which usually involves manual work, and thus may result in inappropriate timing of revenue recognition around the balance sheet date. Thus, we identified the cut-off of building and land sales revenue as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding, assessment and verification on operating procedures and internal controls in relation to building and land sales revenue, including the following items:
  - (1) Interviewed employees involved in operating procedures of building and land sales revenue in each segment and obtained revenue recognition procedures of building and land sales in order to confirm that they are in line with the operating regulations.
  - (2) Examined the internal control of building and land sale revenue, checked whether the home inspection information had been reviewed by the competent supervisors and verified whether the date and the information recorded in supporting documents (including land registrations, house ownership certificates, home inspection information and house handover information) were consistent with the date and the information recorded in building and land sales contracts in order to ensure transactions were recorded in the proper period.
2. Performed cut-off test on building and land transactions around the end of the reporting period, including verifying land registration, transfer date in the house ownership certificate, customers' home inspection checklists and customers' signed receipts for turning over of property to confirm that the building and land sales revenue recognition timing was appropriate.

Assessment of allowance for inventory valuation losses

Description

Please refer to Note 4(12) for accounting policy on inventory valuation, Note 5(2) for accounting estimates and assumptions in relation to inventory valuation. As at December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories and allowance for inventory valuation losses amounted to NT$7,341,944 thousand and NT$0 thousand, respectively.

The Company's inventories pertain to buildings and land held for sale and construction in progress, and inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Since the Company operates in the construction industry which involves a high degree of capital input and has a long capital recovery period, the market price of real estate has higher fluctuations due to the impact of the government's housing policy and the state of the economy in recent years and because the inventory valuation involves management's subjective judgment, thus, we identified assessment of allowance for inventory valuation losses as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

1. Obtained an understanding of and assessed the nature of the Company's business and industry and discussed with management in order to assess the reasonableness of the method and the procedure that the Company used to determine net realizable value.
2. Obtained the net realizable value report of inventory at the end of the reporting period, sampled and tested the adequacy of basis used in estimation of net realizable assets, including obtaining recent transaction prices of each project, recent transaction information of similar assets of neighboring area or appraisal report issued by external experts and the adequacy of the estimated costs necessary to complete the sale, and confirmed the net realizable value of ending inventories in order to assess the reasonableness of allowance for inventory valuation losses.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the parent company only financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the company audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

4. Summary of Material Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these parent company only financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

(1) Compliance statement

The parent company only financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the "Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers", International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC® Interpretations, and SIC® Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the FSC (collectively referred herein as the “IFRSs” ).

(2) Basis of preparation

- A. Except for the financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, the parent company only financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.
- B. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Company’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 5.

(3) Foreign currency translation

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Company’s entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the “functional currency”). The parent company only financial statements are presented in New Taiwan dollar, which is the Company’s functional currency.

Foreign currency transactions and balances

- A. Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions or valuation where items are remeasured. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.
- B. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising upon re-translation at the balance sheet date are recognised in profit or loss.
- C. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies held at fair value through profit or loss are re-translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date; their translation differences are recognised in profit or loss. However, non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are not measured at fair value are translated using the historical exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.
- D. All other foreign exchange gains and losses based on the nature of those transactions are presented in the statement of comprehensive income within ‘other gains and losses’.

(4) Classification of current and non-current items

- A. Assets that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current assets:
  - (a) Assets arising from operating activities that are expected to be realised, or are intended to be sold or consumed within the normal operating cycle;
  - (b) Assets held mainly for trading purposes;
  - (c) Assets that are expected to be realised within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
  - (d) Cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash and cash equivalents and those that are to be exchanged or used to settle liabilities more than twelve months after the balance sheet date.

Except for the assets related to construction and long-term construction contracts, assets that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current assets.

- B. Liabilities that meet one of the following criteria are classified as current liabilities:
- (a) Liabilities that are expected to be settled within the normal operating cycle;
  - (b) Liabilities arising mainly from trading activities;
  - (c) Liabilities that are to be settled within twelve months from the balance sheet date;
  - (d) Liabilities for which the repayment date cannot be extended unconditionally to more than twelve months after the balance sheet date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

Except for the liabilities related to construction and long-term construction contracts, liabilities that do not meet the above criteria are classified as non-current liabilities.

- C. As the operating cycle for constructions and sales of buildings usually exceeds one year, the Company uses the operating cycle as its criteria for classifying current and non-current assets and liabilities related to construction contracts. For other assets and liabilities, the criterion is one year.

(5) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

- A. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets that are not measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Company measures the financial assets at fair value and recognises the transaction costs in profit or loss. The Company subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value, and recognises the gain or loss in profit or loss.
- D. The Company recognises the dividend income when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(6) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

- A. Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income comprise equity securities which are not held for trading, and for which the Company has made an irrevocable election at initial recognition to recognise changes in fair value in other comprehensive income and debt instruments which meet all of the following criteria:
  - (a) The objective of the Company's business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
  - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Company measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. The Company subsequently measures the financial assets at fair value:

The changes in fair value of equity investments that were recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to retained earnings and are not reclassified to profit or loss following the derecognition of the investment. Dividends are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established, future economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company and the amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

(7) Financial assets at amortised cost

- A. Financial assets at amortised cost are those that meet all of the following criteria:
- (a) The objective of the Company's business model is achieved by collecting contractual cash flows.
  - (b) The assets' contractual cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest.
- B. On a regular way purchase or sale basis, financial assets at amortised cost are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.
- C. At initial recognition, the Company measures the financial assets at fair value plus transaction costs. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest method. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired.
- D. The Company's time deposits which do not fall under cash equivalents are those with a short maturity period and are measured at initial investment amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(8) Accounts and notes receivable

- A. Accounts and notes receivable entitle the Company a legal right to receive consideration in exchange for transferred goods or rendered services.
- B. The short-term accounts and notes receivable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(9) Impairment of financial assets

For financial assets at amortised cost, at each reporting date, the Company recognises the impairment provision for 12 months expected credit losses if there has not been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition or recognises the impairment provision for the lifetime expected credit losses (ECLs) if such credit risk has increased since initial recognition after taking into consideration all reasonable and verifiable information that includes forecasts. On the other hand, for accounts receivable that do not contain a significant financing component, the Company recognises the impairment provision for lifetime ECLs.

(10) Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.

The Company derecognises a financial asset when one of the following conditions is met:

- A. The contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire.
- B. The contractual rights to receive cash flows of the financial asset have been transferred and the Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset.

C. The contractual rights to receive cash flows of the financial asset have been transferred; however, the Company has not retained control of the financial asset.

(11) Leasing arrangements (lessor) – operating leases

Lease income from an operating lease (net of any incentives given to the lessee) is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(12) Inventories

Inventories related to the construction industry include land held for sale, buildings held for sale, construction in progress and construction materials, etc., which are recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised. The cost is accumulated based on constructions and is determined based on floor space of a building. Also, inventories are assessed based on the lower of cost and net realizable value at the balance sheet date. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The Company adopted specific identification method to attribute costs to each construction project when comparing costs and net realizable value of inventories. The amount that the Company wrote down from cost to net realizable value was accounted for as cost of goods sold.

(13) Subsidiaries accounted for using equity method

A. Subsidiaries are all entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company. The Company controls an entity when the Company is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity.

B. Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealised gains or losses on transactions between companies within the Company are eliminated. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been adjusted where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Company.

C. The Company's share of its associates' post-acquisition profits or losses is recognised in profit or loss, and its share of post-acquisition movements in other comprehensive income is recognised in other comprehensive income. When the Company's share of losses in a subsidiary equals or exceeds its interest in the subsidiary, the Company continues to recognise losses proportionate to its ownership.

D. Pursuant to the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, profit (loss) of the current period and other comprehensive income in the non-consolidated financial statements shall be equal to the amount attributable to owners of the parent in the consolidated financial statements. Owners' equity in the non-consolidated financial statements shall be equal to equity attributable to owners of the parent in the consolidated financial statements.

(14) Property, plant and equipment

A. Property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost. Borrowing costs incurred during the construction period are capitalised.

- B. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the financial period in which they are incurred.
- C. Land is not depreciated. Other property, plant and equipment apply cost model and are depreciated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost over their estimated useful lives. Each part of an item of property, plant, and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item must be depreciated separately.
- D. The assets' residual values, useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year-end. If expectations for the assets' residual values and useful lives differ from previous estimates or the patterns of consumption of the assets' future economic benefits embodied in the assets have changed significantly, any change is accounted for as a change in estimate under IAS 8, 'Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors', from the date of the change. The estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Leasehold improvements	1 ~ 2 year(s)
Other equipment	2 ~ 5 year(s)

(15) Leasing arrangements (lessee) — right-of-use assets/ lease liabilities

- A. Leases are recognised as a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability at the date at which the leased asset is available for use by the Company. For short-term leases or leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.
- B. Lease liabilities include the net present value of the remaining lease payments at the commencement date, discounted using the incremental borrowing interest rate. Lease payments are comprised of the following:
  - (a) Fixed payments, less any lease incentives receivable; and
  - (b) Variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate.

The Company subsequently measures the lease liability at amortised cost using the interest method and recognises interest expense over the lease term. The lease liability is remeasured and the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset when there are changes in the lease term or lease payments and such changes do not arise from contract modifications.

- C. At the commencement date, the right-of-use asset measured at cost shall comprise the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability.

The right-of-use asset is measured subsequently using the cost model and is depreciated from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term.

When the lease liability is remeasured, the amount of remeasurement is recognised as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset.

- D. For lease modifications that decrease the scope of the lease, the lessee shall decrease the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset and remeasure the lease liability to reflect the partial or full termination of the lease, and recognise the difference in profit or loss.

(16) Intangible assets

Computer software is stated at cost and amortised on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life of 3 years.

(17) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date the recoverable amounts of those assets where there is an indication that they are impaired. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell or value in use. When the circumstances or reasons for recognising impairment loss for an asset in prior years no longer exist or diminish, the impairment loss is reversed. The increased carrying amount due to reversal should not be more than what the depreciated or amortised historical cost would have been if the impairment had not been recognised.

(18) Borrowings

Borrowings comprise long-term and short-term bank borrowings and other short-term loans. Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently stated at amortised cost; any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(19) Notes and accounts payable

- A. Accounts payable are liabilities for purchases of raw materials, goods or services and notes payable are those resulting from operating and non-operating activities.
- B. The short-term notes and accounts payable without bearing interest are subsequently measured at initial invoice amount as the effect of discounting is immaterial.

(20) Bonds payable

Ordinary corporate bonds issued by the Company are initially recognised at fair value less transaction costs. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is presented as an addition to or deduction from bonds payable, which is amortised to profit or loss over the period of bond circulation using the effective interest method as an adjustment to 'finance costs'.

(21) Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is either discharged or cancelled or expires.

(22) Employee benefits

A. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in respect of service rendered by employees in a period and should be recognised as expense in that period when the employees render service.

B. Pensions

For defined contribution plans, the contributions are recognised as pension expense when they are due on an accrual basis. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent of a cash refund or a reduction in the future payments.

C. Employees' compensation and directors' and supervisors' remuneration

Employees' compensation and directors' and supervisors' remuneration are recognised as expense and liability, provided that such recognition is required under legal or constructive obligation and those amounts can be reliably estimated. Any difference between the resolved amounts and the subsequently actual distributed amounts is accounted for as changes in estimates. If employee compensation is paid by shares, the Company calculates the number of shares based on the closing price at the previous day of the board meeting resolution.

(23) Employee share-based payment

For the equity-settled share-based payment arrangements, the employee services received are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted at the grant date, and are recognised as compensation cost over the vesting period, with a corresponding adjustment to equity. The fair value of the equity instruments granted shall reflect the impact of market vesting conditions and non-vesting conditions. Compensation cost is subject to adjustment based on the service conditions that are expected to be satisfied and the estimates of the number of equity instruments that are expected to vest under the non-market vesting conditions at each balance sheet date. Ultimately, the amount of compensation cost recognised is based on the number of equity instruments that eventually vest.

(24) Income tax

A. The tax expense for the period comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or items recognised directly in equity, in which cases the tax is recognised in other comprehensive income or equity.

B. The current income tax expense is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date in the countries where the Company operates and generates taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in accordance with applicable tax regulations. It establishes provisions where appropriate based on the amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities. An additional tax is levied on the unappropriated retained earnings and is recorded as income tax expense in the year the stockholders resolve to retain the earnings.

- C. Deferred tax is recognised, using the balance sheet liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated balance sheet. However, the deferred tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss and does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences. Deferred tax is provided on temporary differences arising on investments in subsidiaries, except where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference is controlled by the Company and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date and are expected to apply when the related deferred tax asset is realised or the deferred tax liability is settled.
- D. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. At each balance sheet date, unrecognised and recognised deferred tax assets are reassessed.

(25) Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or stock options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(26) Dividends

Cash dividends distributed to shareholders are recorded as liability in the financial statements when the Company's Board of Directors resolved to distribute dividends. Stock dividends distributed to shareholders are recorded as stock dividend to be distributed in the financial statements when the shareholders resolved to distribute dividends and transferred to ordinary shares at the effective date of new shares.

(27) Revenue recognition

A. Sales of real estate

- (a) The Company is primarily engaged in building real estate through entrusting a construction company and sales of real estate. The revenue from sales of real estate is recognised when the control over the real estate is transferred to customers. The properties have generally no alternative use for the Company due to contractual restrictions. However, an enforceable right to payment does not arise until legal title has passed to the customer. Therefore, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the legal title has passed to the customer.
- (b) Certain sales contract of pre-sale houses contains provision for advance sales receipts, wherein the period between advance collection and the transfer of control of goods is longer than one year. The Company assessed that there is no significant financial component in the individual contract, therefore the Company does not adjust the transaction price to reflect the time value of money.

B. Service revenue

Service revenue is derived from providing services based on commissioned sales contracts. Revenue is recognised when the provision of services is completed, and customer pays contract consideration when the provision of service is completed.

C. Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

The Company recognises an asset (shown as ‘other current assets’) the incremental costs (mainly comprised of sales commissions) of obtaining a contract with a customer if the Company expects to recover those costs. The recognised asset is amortised on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfers to the customer of the goods or services to which the asset relates. The Company recognises an impairment loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the remaining amount of consideration that the Company expects to receive less the costs that have not been recognised as expenses.

5. Critical Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Key Sources of Assumption Uncertainty

The preparation of these parent company only financial statements requires management to make critical judgements in applying the Company’s accounting policies and make critical assumptions and estimates concerning future events. Assumptions and estimates may differ from the actual results and are continually evaluated and adjusted based on historical experience and other factors. Such assumptions and estimates have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. There are no critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumption uncertainty.

(1) Critical judgements in applying the Company’s accounting policies

None.

(2) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

Evaluation of inventories

As inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value, the Company must determine the net realisable value of inventories on balance sheet date using judgements and estimates. Inventory valuation is primarily estimated based on the market price which may have significant changes due to the government’s housing policy and the recent state of the economy on real estate.

As of December 31, 2023, the carrying amount of inventories was $7,341,944 thousand.

B. Financial risk management policies

- (a) The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.
- (b) Risk management is carried out by the Company's treasury department through close co-operation with the Company's operating units to identify, evaluate and hedge financial risks, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments, and investment of excess liquidity.

C. Significant financial risks and degrees of financial risks

(a) Market risk

Exchange rate risk

The Company's businesses involve functional currency operations (the Company's and certain subsidiaries' functional currency: NTD), the value affected by exchange rate fluctuations is remote and will not generate exchange rate risk accordingly.

Price risk

- i. The Company's equity securities, which are exposed to price risk, are the held financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. To manage its price risk arising from investments in equity securities, the Company diversifies its portfolio. Diversification of the portfolio is done in accordance with the limits set by the Company.
- ii. The Company's major investment is equity securities. The prices of equity securities would change due to the change of the future value of investee companies. If the prices of these equity securities had increased/decreased by 5% with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 would have increased/decreased by $1,276 thousand and $23,904 thousand, respectively, as a result of gains on equity securities classified as at fair value through profit or loss. Other components of equity would have increased/decreased by $200 and $0, respectively, as a result of other comprehensive income classified as equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

- i. The Company's main interest rate risk arises from long-term borrowings with variable rates, which expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk. During December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's borrowings at variable rate were mainly denominated in New Taiwan dollars.
- ii. If the borrowing interest rate of New Taiwan dollars had increased/decreased by 0.1% with all other variables held constant, profit, net of tax for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 would have increased/decreased by $3,815 thousand and $3,619 thousand, respectively. The main factor is that changes in interest expense result in floating-rate borrowings.

(b) Credit risk

- i. Credit risk refers to the risk of financial loss to the Group arising from default by the clients or counterparties of financial instruments on the contract obligations. The main factor is that counterparties could not repay in full the accounts receivable based on the agreed terms, and the contract cash flows of financial assets stated at amortised cost.
- ii. The Company manages their credit risk taking into consideration the entire company's concern. For banks and financial institutions, checking their credit rating on deposits, only independently rated parties with a minimum rating of good credit quality are accepted.

According to the Company's credit policy, each local entity in the Group is responsible for managing and analysing the credit risk for each of their new clients before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. Internal risk control assesses the credit quality of the customers, taking into account their financial position, past experience and other factors. Individual risk limits are set based on internal or external ratings in accordance with limits set by the Board of Directors. The utilisation of credit limits is regularly monitored.

- iii. The Company adopts following assumptions under IFRS 9 to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition:
If the contract payments were past due over 30 days based on the terms, there has been a significant increase in credit risk on that instrument since initial recognition.
- iv. The Company adopts the assumptions under IFRS 9, the default occurs when the contract payments are past due over 90 days.
- v. The Company primarily operates buildings and land business, such as sales of houses and plants. Revenue is recognised when transfer of ownership and house handover are completed, and the possibility of uncollectible accounts receivable is remote. The Company individually manages and regularly follows-up accounts receivable derived from special transactions. In addition, the Company classifies customers' accounts receivable in accordance with customer types and credit rating of customer. The Company applies the modified approach using a provision matrix to estimate the expected credit loss.
- vi. The following indicators are used to determine whether the credit impairment of debt instruments has occurred:
  - (i). It becomes probable that the issuer will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation due to their financial difficulties;
  - (ii). The disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties;
  - (iii). Default or delinquency in interest or principal repayments;
  - (iv). Adverse changes in national or regional economic conditions that are expected to cause a default.
- vii. The Company wrote-off the financial assets, which cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered, after initiating recourse procedures. However, the Company will continue executing the recourse procedures to secure their rights. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company's written-off financial assets that are still under recourse procedures amounted to $0 thousand and $0 thousand, respectively.
- viii. The Company used the historical and timely information to assess the default possibility of accounts receivable. On December 31, 2023 and 2022, the provision matrix is as follows:

	Not past due	Up to 90 days past due	Over 90 days past due	Total
December 31, 2023
Expected loss rate	0.15%	0.00%	0.00%
Total book value	$ 455,872	$ -	$ -	$ 455,872
Loss allowance	($ 699)	$ -	$ -	($ 699)
December 31, 2022
Expected loss rate	1.57%	0%	20%~100%
Total book value	$ 44,525	$ -	$ -	$ 44,525
Loss allowance	($ 699)	$ -	$ -	($ 699)

ix. Movements in relation to the Company applying the modified approach to provide loss allowance for accounts receivable are as follows:

	2023	2022
	Accounts receivable	Accounts receivable
At January 1 (i.e. at December 31)	$ 699	$ 699

x. The Company estimated that the loss rate of financial assets at amortised costs, notes receivables, accounts receivable-related parties, other accounts receivable (including related parties) and guarantee deposits paid is remote, therefore, loss allowance is immaterial as of December 31, 2023 and 2022.

(c) Liquidity risk

- i. Cash flow forecasting is aggregated by Company treasury. Company treasury monitors rolling forecasts of the Company's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs while maintaining sufficient headroom on its undrawn committed borrowing facilities at all times.
- ii. As at December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company has undrawn borrowing facilities amounting to $4,337,094 thousand and $2,695,589 thousand, respectively. The above bank borrowing facilities were drawn down based on the progress of the project.
